

The Center for European Studies and The Institute for Hungarian Studies

The Politics of the Eurozone Crisis

A conversation with

Gordon Bajnai

Former Prime Minister of the Republic of Hungary

Thursday, October 13, 2011

Scholarly Communications Center
Alexander Library, Rutgers University
169 College Avenue, College Avenue Campus
2:30 – 4:00 pm

Gordon Bajnai was prime minister of Hungary from 2009 to 2010 at a time of extraordinary political and economic crisis. Currently, he serves as the founder of the Haza és Haladás Foundation, a non-partisan public policy research organization in Hungary. His perspective on the politics of the eurozone and the European Union is informed by a remarkable career in the public and private sectors. Rutgers Center for European Studies and The Institute for Hungarian Studies are pleased to invite him to speak with faculty and students in a wide-ranging conversation about the economic and political challenges facing the eurozone.

The event is free and open to the public.

Light reception to follow

With any questions, please contact:
european@rci.rutgers.edu

